

Justification Letter to attend Retool Summit 2025

Hi [Name],

I'd like to attend Retool Summit, their first in-person user event. It's geared toward the developers and teams building internal tools with the platform, and will include hands-on sessions, new product insights, and conversations with other builders tackling similar problems at other orgs.

I see this as a chance to deepen my technical understanding, pick up practical ideas we can apply to our workflows, and stay ahead of where the platform is going. I'll plan to share key takeaways with the team afterward.

Early bird tickets are currently $195 until September 7, after which they go up to $395. Let me know what you think!

Best,
[Your Name]